Re: USA vs. 515 Concord Ave (Robert Clarkson), Docket # 8:07-cr-0536

Dear Agent Andy:

You and your crew appear to be in serious violation of the court's Order of Aug 10th based upon the facts listed below and also my letter sent to you yesterday. If I am not correct in all matters, please let me know. I do not want to file unnecessary motions in federal court. I am a little on the thrifty side, as you noted in our interview. So I do not want to take up expensive court time when your people and I can work out most of my concerns.

You did not return to me records that I need for the day-to-day operations of a political association. I am entitled to copies of these if you do not return them.

You returned to me a pad of POMC's –Public Office Money Certificates which look like checks or banking instruments. Plus, some POMC that I designed decades ago. This has no connection to your investigation, but is the only thing that I have that could be (by twisted logic) remotely connected to your investigation.

Attached is a POMC from the late Tupper Saussy and one that I published. Both of these documents were seized and returned. At least now you can have some documents that might bring me into the outer area of your investigation. The POMCs and their political uses are explained in Saussy's classic The Miracle on Main Street. You seized my supply of these but you should have kept one.

Curiously, when you raided my office, you took my book inventory and political literature but not my case files, which may possibly be useful in investigating me for something. You also went through the file cabinet to grab my cash and checks.

You took many items which could possibly be remotely useful to the IRS in a criminal tax investigation. However, the FBI is prohibited under the Privacy Act and other remedial laws, from investigating tax crimes and therefore most of the property stolen from me can not be legally related to an FBI investigation.

You took so many items that have no possible connection to a criminal case. You refuse to return these items to me in the face of a court order. This clearly proves that the purpose of your raid was not legal law enforcement, but an illegal effort to dismantle The Patriot Network, a political organization.

Please return to me all materials and assets that were removed for the purpose of dismantling or harassing a political group protected by the First Amendment of the US Constitution. You had in your possession for four months thousands of copies of the US Constitution and Bill of Rights. I hope you and your crew had a chance to read them. If you did not keep one of these, let me know and I will send one back to you.

Return to me all items seized that are related to the IRS cases against me—including the IRC §6700 case. That case is over with and I plan to abandon my appeal.

You returned to me the frame that contained my law school diploma. Why did you rip the diploma out of the frame? You could have just left the diploma in the frame. You also damaged the frame. I sincerely hope you did not ruin the diploma.

As you well know, I suffered a severe brain injury while in the Army, which made law school a real struggle. That diploma represents to me the fact that I had some recovery, that I had a chance of a normal life and that the doctors had been too pessimistic.

You also damaged the computers by removing the operating system. You wiped out the entire hard drive, and took operating software discs, including the recovery discs to prevent us from reinstalling our work. You removed the windows software, which made the computers inoperative. Why did you this? How is this related to an FBI investigation?

You also did not return the computer software that we could use to recover the documents in the computers. Please return to us all of the computer software you seized. After you copied the information, you have no further use of our computer equipment, disc and records. These no longer are relevant to your investigation and thereby fall under the Judge's order.

Please send me a copy of the authorization, law and regulations that allow FBI agents to destroy personal property of people they do not like. This is a clear case of malicious destruction of personal property, even if the search warrant was legal.

I have always been a supporter of the FBI and sell copies of Hoover's classic "Masters of Deceit". You did return to me my collection of that book but I wish you had keep at least one for the agents to study. When I see you next, I can give you one as the value is less than $10.

You and your staff should have read that book while you had it. The many club members have asked me whether your agents studied my inventory of classic material on the rights of a free people.

Yours, Robert Clarkson
